

5 May 2021

Pavia e Ansaldo: Marco Giustiniani takes the lead of the Administrative Law Department

Milan, 5 May, 2021 - Law firm Pavia e Ansaldo communicates that Marco Giustiniani has been nominated Head of the Administrative Law and Environmental and Safety Law Departments.

Marco Giustiniani has been a Partner of the Firm since 2015 and has teaching contracts in public tenders subjects at the “Politecnico” of Milan, “L.U.M.S.A.” of Rome and Innsbruck Universities.

A winner of a number of professional awards in the sectors of administrative law and litigation, Marco Giustiniani assists Italian and foreign clients, both public and private ones, in all aspects of administrative law, with particular reference to public contracts, transport and public services sector, environmental law, electronic communications and other regulated sectors, antitrust, pharmaceutical law and to zoning/construction aspects. Through the years he has also acquired a recognized experience in litigation before the Administrative Supreme Court and Regional Administrative Courts.

Marco Giustiniani is also President of the BoD and Scientific Co-Director of Dike Giuridica Editrice, an editor specializing in the publishing of scientific volumes in the administrative law subject.