23 abril 2026

Four new Counsels at Pavia e Ansaldo

The new appointments strengthen the Corporate M&A and Litigation practice areas and confirm the firm's commitment to fostering internal career development.

Milan, 10 April 2026 – Pavia e Ansaldo announces the appointment of four new counsels, continuing its focus on developing internal expertise and strengthening the firm's key practice areas.

The appointments regard Riccardo Robuschi and Pietro Miazzi, who will continue their professional careers within the Corporate M&A practice, and Lucrezia Puliatti and Roberta Pavia, who will continue to work in the Litigation practice.

The four professionals, already an integral part of the firm, have built up a solid track record over time, contributing to the development of their respective practice areas and to the support of Italian and international clients. Their promotion is part of a strategy aimed at ensuring continuity, quality and specialisation in the legal services offered, within a constantly evolving market context.

"The professional growth of our new counsels is a source of great satisfaction and a confirmation of Pavia e Ansaldo's commitment to nurturing talent; it reflects our vision of development based on the skills and value of our people", comments Stefano Bianchi, Managing Partner of the firm.
"Investing in professionals who have already shared the firm's journey means strengthening its identity, ensuring stability for clients and consolidating a professional culture based on merit, responsibility and a long-term vision. With these appointments, we also confirm our commitment to strengthening strategic practices and developing internal expertise, which are central to the firm's positioning in Italy and abroad."